DEMOCRATIC CONGRESSIONAL ELLIS CONGRATULATES BASS

Concord, Sept. 7.—The Democratic candidates for congress, who had no opposition at the primaries, were Mayor Eugene E. Reed of Manchester, in the first district, and Henry H. Metcalf of Concord, in the second district.

Keene, Sept. 7.—At 1 o'clock this morning, Colonel Ellis sent a telegram to Mr. Bass in which he said: "Congratulations on your nomination. A united party will assure your election in November." Mr. Ellis declined to make any comment on the outcome of the primaries.

CLOTHESLINE THIEVES BUSY

Big Haul of Valuables Articles Tuesday Night

If the people of this city think the clothes line thief has gone out of business they are certainly mistaken. For some time the operations have been confined to the South end, but on Tuesday night or early Wednesday their work was changed to another district, where they made the haul of the season. The latest gathering from the clothes line was at the residence of Samuel Dodge at the corner of State and Middle streets, where quilts, underwear and other valuable articles were taken. This time the thief was very particular and selected the best of the day's wash, leaving a few pieces that were of no real value to the owner. This branch of thieving throughout the city is increasing and the people have suffered much from such losses. The owners of the articles taken in this last steal, and the police have a pretty fair clue as to who did the work and arrests are expected to follow.

Made a Clean Sweep of State in Primaries

SULLOWAY RENOMINATED

Portsmouth Gives Bass and Burroughs Good Vote --- Beane and Guptill Nominated in County Fight.

THE NEW PRIMARY LAW WAS GIVEN A THOROUGH TEST IN THIS CITY ON TUESDAY, AND IT WAS IN A WAY, VERY SUCCESSFUL, THAT IS, THERE WAS A VERY LARGE VOTE BROUGHT OUT, AND THE RESULT WERE IN MANY CASES A GREAT SURPRISE. THERE WAS SOME OUTS DISCOVERED BY THE VOTERS IN THE NEW LAW, WHICH MAY HAVE TO BE CORRECTED, BUT THESE WERE MINOR. THE DAY WAS REMARKABLE FOR THE GREAT NUMBER OF SUPPOSED DEMOCRATS WHO ELECTED TO DECLARE THAT THEY WERE REPUBLICANS AND VOTE THAT TICKET. AS A MATTER OF FACT, HERE WERE NOT OVER ONE HUNDRED DEMOCRATIC VOTES CAST IN THE CITY.

Robert P. Bass, the hustling progressive candidate, carried this city by a big majority, carrying every ward here, with the exception of Ward One. Sherman E. Burroughs also carried the city, but not by as large a vote as Mr. Bass, having only 46 majority over Mr. Sulloway.

There was, of course, a great interest in the county fight, there being four candidates for Collector, and seven for County Commission. For the former, E. L. Guptill carried this city by an overwhelming majority. Guptill's vote was 774, while Batchelder, who was the next highest, polled only 218 votes in all of the wards.

In the fight for County Commissioners, it looks as though this city would have two commissioners on the next board, inasmuch as both Norman H. Beane and W. A. Hodgdon carried this city, the former polling 65 more votes.

In some of the wards there have been several local contests for the minor offices. In Ward One there was a three cornered fight over the Representatives, in which E. P. Stoddard and August Hett secured the nomination.

In Ward Four there was a lively scrap over the delegate to the state convention and Sherman T. Newton won out over Leslie Norman. These local contests had a tendency to bring out the voters and the fight over the County Commissioner also helped.

In the commissioners' fight Norman H. Beane lead the ticket with a vote here of 772. W. A. Hodgdon was second with 707, and George A. Carlisle third with 349 votes.

In the solicitor's fight, E. L. Guptill carried every ward in the city and won out with the handsome vote of 774. Charles H. Batchelder was second with 213, Samuel W. Emery, Jr., third with 124, and Harry K. Torrey had 66 votes.

In the contest for the nomination for State Senator, was between three men, Col. John Pender was high with 567.

There was a very small democratic vote cast. There was no contest of any kind and Mr. Carr was nominated for governor, and Eugene Reed for Congress.

The democratic vote was remarkably light, not over 100 in all wards. In some of the wards but one or two voted the democratic ticket.

The following was the result in wards:

MEAD WINS IN VERMONT

Republicans Carry the State by About 17,000

A LOSS OF 24 PERCENT

Bass, "Progressive" Republican Candidate For Governor, Defeats Ellis, "Regular," by Almost 8000 Margin in New Hampshire Primaries—Congressman Sulloway Secures Renomination by Substantial Margin

White River Junction, Vt., Sept. 7.—In the smallest vote cast in twenty-five years the Republican vote shrank 24 percent while the Democrats held their own in the election yesterday.

The Republicans elected the entire state ticket, both members of congress and a legislature that will probably re-elect United States Senator Page for a second term.

The following state officers were chosen: Governor, John A. Mead of Rutland; lieutenant governor, Leighton P. St. John of St. Johnsbury; secretary of state, Guy B. Bailey of Essex; treasurer, Edward H. Devitt of Montpelier; auditor, Horace E. Graham of Craftsbury; attorney general, John G. Sargent of Ludlow; Republican congressmen re-elected, First district, David Foster of Burlington; Second district, Frank Plumley of Newfield.

Lieutenant Governor John A. Mead of Rutland, a retired physician, was elected by a plurality of about 17,000 over Charles D. Watson, a lawyer, of St. Albans, his Democratic opponent. The Democrats made gains in the legislature.

The Republican plurality was the smallest, with two exceptions, since 1870, but Chairman Williams of the state committee declares that the rain storm was the principal cause for the drop of 12,000 in the party plurality in two years.

Chairman Harris of the Democratic state committee expresses himself as satisfied with the results. Watson not only carried his own city, but Montpelier, the state capital, as well, a feat unheard of in Vermont politics. Watson also ran well in the other cities, but the little hill towns stood loyally by Mead. The returns were unusually slow in coming in.

There was a decided falling off in the number of Republican voters at the polls, due, it is said by politicians, to a needless campaign, some party dissatisfaction with the candidate for governor and to the fact that rain fell throughout the day.

The Democrats did better than the Republicans, the early returns showing that the party vote for Watson equaled, and in some towns exceeded, that given Burke, the leader of two years ago.

Only five small towns went Democratic two years ago, but yesterday more than a dozen were recorded in that column. It was an election in which the Republicans saw a plurality of 30,000 two years ago sink to nearly 20,000, while the Democrats held the party vote firm.

IN NEW HAMPSHIRE

"Insurgent" Bass Receives an Unexpectedly Large Vote

Concord, N. H., Sept. 7.—New Hampshire's first state wide primaries were featured by the victory of the "progressive" Republicans over the so-called "regulars." State Senator Robert P. Bass, of Peterborough, the progressive leader, receiving the Republican nomination for governor over Bertrand Ellis of Keene, the regular standard bearer, by almost two to one.

With half the state counted Bass leads Ellis by 8767 votes, showing unexpected strength in cities where Ellis was supposed to be the stronger and maintaining his strength in the country districts. All the interest in the primaries was centered on the Republican struggle, as there was no contest in the Democratic ranks.

The "progressives" received one setback in the congressional fight. Congressman Sulloway of Manchester, generally rated as a "regular," securing the congressional renomination in the First district over Sherman E. Burroughs, "progressive," by a substantial margin.

Congressman Currier had no party opposition to the Republican renomination in the Second congressional district. Despite a heavy rain, the Republican vote was large.

The Democratic vote for Clarence B. Carr of Andover for governor and for Eugene E. Reed of Manchester for the congressional nomination in the First district and Henry H. Metcalf of Concord in the Second district, all of whom were unopposed, was light.

Important Agricultural Discovery
Sheffield, Sept. 7.—At the meeting of the British association, Dr. Bussell and Hutchinson announced the discovery of the micro-organism which destroys the bacteria essential to the fertility of the soil. A subsequent speaker declared that this was the most important agricultural discovery in fifty years.

FLIGHTS IN FOG

Aviators Take Their Lives in Their Hands at Squantum Meet

Dorchester, Sept. 7.—Fog, heavy and wet, enveloped the aviation field at Squantum yesterday, making contests impossible, and endangering the lives of the aviators who made flights that the spectators might not be disappointed.

Glenn H. Curtiss, in a dream flight through the heavy mist, narrowly escaped disaster. He soared a trifle too high and lost sight of land under him. He swooped gradually, waiting for the land to appear. Suddenly, so rapidly that he was unable to rise over, two great trees loomed from the mist right in front of him.

Unable to ascend in time, he had to undertake to skim between the trees. The space was very narrow, but he made the opening, the tips of his planes grazing the trees on either side. On an even keel he would have been unable to jam through unhurt.

Brookings, who took out the Wright biplane, in his turn at furnishing their money's worth to the crowd, narrowly escaped an even more serious accident. He was sitting through the fog, just dimly seeing the loom of the land under him. Suddenly he saw, through a rift of the fog, the grandstand. He had almost crashed down into the midst of the throng.

The shock of the escape almost unnerved him. He swooped across the field, coming to ground alongside the toy battleship, suddenly and with force. The impact weakened a strut, but he was back on earth again and had injured no one.

Graham-White again startled spectators by many daring stunts.

Bridgeport, Conn., Sept. 7.—Mrs. William Vimmer killed her two-week-old daughter and herself with carbolic acid. She had been despondent since the birth of the child.

Another little daughter, playing in the house, found her mother on the floor. She called her father, and the latter, thinking the mother was ill, sent for an ambulance. The physician found both the mother and the child, beside her, dead. Nearby was a three-ounce bottle, which had contained carbolic acid.

COAST LINERS CRASH OFF BOSTON HARBOR

City of Gloucester Has Big Hole Stove In Her Side

Boston, Sept. 7.—The coast steamer "Governor Cobb," inward bound, of the Eastern Steamship company, and the City of Gloucester, of the Boston and Gloucester Steamship company, en route for Gloucester, crashed together in a dense fog in the narrow channel off Deer Island light. The passengers on both steamers were badly frightened. Some of the women fainted and others were on the verge of hysteria. No one was hurt.

Just after the two boats came together the big steamer Prince George came into the channel and came near running into the Governor Cobb.

The greatest damage was done to the City of Gloucester, which has a hole about ten feet square broken into the starboard bow. The Gloucester boat was compelled to return to Boston.

When the Governor Cobb reached her dock many of the women and children were so badly frightened that they could hardly talk.

WE MUST LOOK TO THE SOIL

If Our Growth In Population Is to Continue

A SEARCH FOR NEW DATA

Being Conducted Throughout Old World By Experts of Agricultural Department—Fertility of Soils Must Be Conserved by All Means in Our Power—Address of Secretary Wilson at Conservation Congress

St. Paul, Sept. 7.—The most important feature of farm conservation is the soil, said Secretary of Agriculture Wilson in an address at the conservation congress. The farmer prospers while the soil responds to his work and yields good crops; he ceases to do well when the soil refuses to respond to his labor.

The people of the older nations take care of soil fertility as a matter of prime necessity and long ago ascertained the proper succession of crops, their relation to the soil and feeding of man and animals. They knew the soil must be fed and the proper physical conditions to maintain and learned from experience how to do it.

During the short history of our country we have had new soils to draw upon when exhaustion resulted from the robbing process, and much of the nation's prosperity is the equivalent of what the soil has lost. Our people have been well fed, and until recently they have been cheaply fed. This has been due in part no doubt to the occupancy of land easily obtainable as soon as the older refused to yield abundantly and is one of the prime causes of farm desertion that are now attracting so much attention.

The federal government is expending large sums to irrigate more land, which is wise, but the amount of water, which is small compared with the volume that flows to waste. In a recent visit to the mountain states I saw that the most advanced localities are every year making more reservoirs to hold winter and spring flows of waters that go free of man's restraint to the ocean. The nation, the states and private enterprises have ample fields in which to work toward greater crop production in this direction.

The department of agriculture, in obedience to congressional requirement, is exploring similar lands that exist under similar conditions throughout the old world. Some success is being had. A wheat from Africa and Asia gives us 60,000,000 bushels a year from the high lying light rainfall states; a grass and alfalfa from Turkistan, alfalfa, clovers and vetches from Siberia, oats from northern Sweden, millets from the orient, sorghum from Africa, are samples of what are being found by our explorers that thrive on our highlands of the west.

At thirteen stations in seven states we have parties of scientists studying methods of plant management on our dry lands. If our growth in population is to continue we must look to the soil and conserve moisture, which is the transportation system of the plant.

We furnish nitrogenous soil feeds to thirty foreigners who know their value to feed their cattle to make meats and dairy products and keep up the fertility of their soils. These should be fed on the farms that grow the grain from which they are made.

New lands are not to be had for the asking in the thirty inch rainfall districts of the country. If we are to prosper as a people we must give close attention to our soils and conserve their fertility by all the means in our power.

INCREASING CROP VOLUME

Something is being done to increase the volume of our crops in all sections of our country. The cattle fever tick of the south has prevented the profitable production of beef in that section of the country. Congress has provided for the extermination of the pest, which is being done; 140,000 square miles is now free from it. This will bring into active production within a few years all of the southern states. Pastures will be prepared, the prime element in a system of rotation of crops; cottonseed will be fed where it is produced, and southern fields will become much more productive, helping to feed our growing population, while more cotton will be grown on fewer acres.

The advent of the cotton boll weevil called for prompt federal action to help southern farmers to deal with this invasion from Central America. Scientists were called upon to make research and conduct demonstrations of well known methods on many thousand farms. One of the most interesting was the growing of an acre of corn by each of 12,600 boys under 10 years of age. The result was very gratifying, over 150 bushels being grown on an acre by some of the boys. The southern states grew the largest corn crop in their history. Upon this foundation steps were promptly taken to breed hogs extensively so that the people might produce their meats.

The grazing lands of the public domain are being steadily reduced to unproductiveness by overstocking, which results in reduced production of meats and animal products.

TO RECRUIT ARMY UP TO 87,000 MEN

Money For That Purpose Has Now Become Available

Washington, Sept. 7.—General Wood, chief of staff of the army, has just returned from his conference with President Taft at Beverly, and announced that the army will be recruited to the authorized strength of 87,000 men. At present, the general staff, the strength of the standing army is only 82,000 officers and men. The reinforcements, therefore, will have to be enlisted. Work on this will start at once in order that the armed force of the country will reach its maximum by next year.

The reduction in the army's strength to the present figure was the result of short appropriations. Five thousand men have been allowed to leave the service without the enlistment of other men to fill their places. Now, however, the money is available, and the president's approval of the plan of increasing the force has been secured.

Death of Wife of Monetary Advantage to Accused Man—Large Quantity of Poison Found in Body of Belle Elmore—Charge Against Miss Leneve Reduced to That of an Accessory After the Fact

London, Sept. 7.—Dr. Hawley H. Crippen, as principal, and Ethel C. Leneve, as an accessory after the fact, were placed on trial Tuesday for the murder of the former's wife, Cora Belle Crippen, known on the stage as Belle Elmore.

The mysterious case, with its mingling of tragedy and romance, tightens its hold on the public imagination as the story is unfolded little by little, and Bow street police court was congested with a curious, fascinated crowd, including a few smartly dressed women and some Americans.

Prosecutor Humphreys set forth that Crippen and his wife were unhappily married; that her death was of monetary advantage to him, in addition to the fact that his relations with his typist were such that Miss Leneve was unpleasantly jealous of the wife. The death of Mrs. Crippen would relieve the situation, from the standpoint of the man who loved one woman and was tied to another.

Crippen needed money and pawned jewelry later identified as the property of his wife. When his wife disappeared he made an explanation that he later admitted was untrue. The prosecutor told of the admitted quarrel between the Crippens, the elopement of Crippen and Miss Leneve and the finding of the body alleged to be that of the doctor's wife in the cellar of the Crippen home.

Mr. Humphreys announced for the first time that poison, more than sufficient to kill, had been found in the body, which also showed traces of an operation. Humphreys said that the crown had decided to change the charge against Miss Leneve from that of a principal in that of an accessory after the fact. In conclusion, he stated that he questioned whether the girl could have believed the extraordinary story told her by Crippen in explanation of his wife's disappearance.

At the conclusion of the prosecutor's address a few witnesses were called for the crown. In cross examining these Solicitor Newton confined himself to a few questions designed to show that Crippen was amiable and kind hearted and seemed to be on the best of terms with his wife.

An application to admit the prisoner to bail was refused and an adjournment was taken until Thursday.

Session Marked by Thanks Extended to King of England

Montreal, Sept. 7.—With the inspiration of the largest and most distinguished assemblage of the Catholic clergy ever known in America the twenty-first international Eucharistic congress last night opened in St. James' cathedral.

Aside from the grandeur of the inauguration of the congressional ceremonies, the day was notable for an exchange of telegrams between the papal legate and the pope and the papal legate and King George V. who was thanked for the removal from the royal declaration of the anti-Catholic clause so obnoxious to Romanists. The king replied most cordially.

It will be remembered that two years ago the Eucharistic congress was held in London and that anti-Catholic feeling was so demonstrative that the Asquith government forbade the carrying of the host in the grand procession with which all congresses conclude.

HAAS' SENTENCE COMMUTED

Counterfeiter Who Exercised His Talents in a Wrong Direction

Washington, Sept. 7.—President Taft has commuted to four years the sentence of Joseph A. Haas, who was caught in 1908 by the secret service men in a raid on a counterfeiter's plant at Braddock, Pa. Haas was sentenced to five years and is now in Leavenworth penitentiary.

Haas is a college man and a scientist. His sentence has been shortened because of his aid to the secret service. While in prison he gave information upon which counterfeiters now serving sentences will be re-arrested when they are released.

He has offered to the secretary of the treasury a method of refining gold and silver bullion, said to be the cheapest and most effective yet discovered, and has written a treatise on isomeric theoretical organic chemistry which is to be published and offered to the Smithsonian institute. A job is waiting for Haas in Pittsburgh.

THREE NEGROES LYNCHED

Two Others Get Away While Georgia Mob Is In Pursuit

Athens, Ga., Sept. 7.—Messages from Charlton, where five negroes were reported to have been killed after attempting to assault the daughter of Robert Huff, a planter, and rob and murder the other members of the Huff family, indicate that two of the accused negroes are still at liberty.

Chief Bollin, one of the negroes, resisted arrest when captured by Marshal Johnson, it is said, and was probably fatally shot.

Two others are reported to have been captured by possses and summarily dealt with, while the remaining two made their escape.

TEMPTATION.

Temptation is a fearful word. It indicates the beginning of a possible catastrophe. It is the siren's song which lures the unwary into the jaws of destruction. Like the sudden gust of wind which rouses us from our slumber, it should rouse us to the highest tension.

REPUBLICANS, ONWARD.

The tumult and the shouting are over and now let us get down to the real business of electing a Republican governor, two republican congressmen and a republican legislature by good old-fashioned republican majorities.

We have our party difficulties, they are merely a family affair and we settle them among ourselves. Let us prove that to the rest of the country. No man can be fully satisfied with his party's complete list of candidates, but we, who have the welfare of New Hampshire at heart, know that the success of the republican ticket is greatly to be desired. Let us strengthen the hands of our leaders by giving them handsome majorities.

Republicans, onward, onward to the victory.

IT WILL BE GOVERNOR BASS

Robert P. Bass of Peterboro was nominated over Bertram Ellis of Keene by such a decisive vote that there can be no doubt of the wishes of the Republican party in New Hampshire.

His vote on election day over Clarence E. Carr, the Democratic candidate, should be even more decisive, and it is the duty of the Republican party to get together and do it.

Mr. Bass is in every way qualified to fill the office and he will be loyal to the state as governor, and now is the time to unite the party and make his election a rouser.

It is not too early to start the work of healing differences, and The Herald predicts that Portsmouth will do its full duty by the entire ticket. Now for work.

CONGRATULATIONS TO MR. SUL-COWAY

Congressman Cyrus A. Suloway, of Manchester is entitled to congratulations, and now it is up to Portsmouth to give him the full party vote on November 8th.

AMONG OUR EXCHANGES

Not Self Respecting

There was never anything exactly like it before, and with every breath to heaven we speed the ejaculation that there may never be again. Moved neither by respect for the high office he has held nor by pity for the people, and disregarding the honorable precedents of the past, this eminent person goes swaggering through the land filling space with the words of his mouth and directing their affairs. The "single instance" serves to bring out in striking and agreeable relief the self respecting course of other presidents of the United States after their retirement from the cares and responsibilities of state.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

"American Policy in the Far East" Is America in the Far East just amusing herself by playing at Welt politik or does she mean business?

The objects of her diplomacy—to stave off the dismemberment of China and to preserve throughout the Far East an equality of commercial opportunity—are sufficiently clear. But how far is she ready to go to attain them? It is possible that even Americans are not yet in a position to answer that question with any definiteness. So far as an outsider can judge, they have not yet thought the matter out. In Europe, at any rate, among those who know the United States best, while American good-will is everywhere recognized as an asset of real value, the general opinion seems to be that Mr. Knox's diplomatic activities in the Far East are of a kind that can be countered and, if need be, resisted, without any serious risk of a more than verbal embroilment with the country he represents.—"Britannicus," in The North American Review for September.

Courts of Law or Expediency

Mr. Roosevelt may properly find amusing himself by playing at Welt-politik to go as far as he would like to have it go in respect to various matters, but he should not fail to understand that what is law and what may be best are two separate and distinct propositions. If the court would base all its decisions on the question whether this or that measure is advantageous it would become a court not of law but of expediency.—Springfield Union.

BIRDS-EYE VIEWS

That the dust of blameworthy coal is an explosive more insidious, threatening and deadly to the miner than fire-damp, is the assertion of George S. Rice, chief mining engineer of the bureau of mines. This is contrary to what has been the general belief, nevertheless it has been proved beyond doubt by the experiments of the last two years at the Pittsburgh testing station of the United States geological survey, which is now a part of the bureau of mines. While many mine operators and miners have believed that coal dust would ignite from an explosion of fire-damp in a mine, nearly all of them contended that the dust in a mine free from gas could not explode. Consequently, in many mines where no fire-damp could be detected, miners have paid little attention to the accumulation of dust from the cutting of the coal, and it is in these mines, Mr. Rice declares, some of the great disasters have taken place.

The census estimate—not count—is to the extent that Maine gained 33,380 population in ten years. That isn't satisfactory to Maine people, most of whom think that Aroostook county alone has gained more than that.

RYE'S NEW LIBRARY.

Some Details of the Building Now Under Construction

As previously told in this paper, the contract to build the public library donated to the town of Rye has been awarded by the trustees to Charles M. Rand, a Rye contractor, and work begun. Mr. Rand's bid is approximately $7000, the amount available for the library. An additional appropriation made in the will of the benefactor, one of the family of Rye Rand's, provided sufficient funds for the purchase of the lot in Rye Center in which the library building is to be erected.

The building will be 30x50 feet, one story high and of Philadelphia pressed brick. Granite will be used to construct the window caps and sills, a small porch of four columns, with a flight of granite steps and a water table and belt course. The building is of colonial architecture.

When the first draft was made the proposed building was found to be too large for the amount appropriated and the interior of the building was changed to conform to the amount.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

Mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surface. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by all druggists. Price 75 cents per bottle. ## A TIMELY TOPIC.

BY
 RICHARD A. BALLINGER,
 Former Secretary of the Interior.

The Conservation of Resources

THE public mind has been very properly become concerned respecting the preservation and right use of our natural resources. This has been especially directed toward the conservation of the natural resources of the public domain. The executive branch of the government has its responsibilities in these particulars and they are great. If the congress directs that rights of way, mines and lands shall be given away in limited quantities to qualified applicants entering the public domain, and furnishes no method whereby they may be disposed of with restrictions which will control or supervise their highest use, congress alone is responsible for the waste that may result.

The executive cannot repeal the law or amend it but must execute it as it stands upon the books. Let the appeal for amendment be made strong and in like proportion the failure to amend must fall with its full weight upon the ones charged by the constitution with the duty.

Insofar as the constitution and the laws will permit executive activities are being pursued in order to secure the increase of soil production, the preservation of the forests and fuel supply, the use and control of stream law, the preservation of national parks and monuments of historic ruins and scenic grandeur; all these things and others are desirable to attain and they appeal to the American people as within the functions of the government to secure. When the federal authority may not properly control and supervise this work of conserving our natural resources, the state governments can and after all it is matter that the people can and will control and regulate.

SLOOP YACHT WRECKED

Crew of Peggy of Marblehead Have Narrow Escape

The sloop yacht Peggy, of Marblehead, which left this port on Monday morning, was wrecked on Emerson's rocks off Plum Island.

The crew of the yacht were Phillip W. Jacobs, a Boston lawyer, owner of the yacht; two guests, Melvin Scharff, an instructor at M. I. T., Arthur A. Andrews, who is connected with a large Boston store; and the captain and sailing master, Antonio L. Leverone, of Boston.

A thick fog prevailed at the time, and the skipper lost his bearings. The crew were trimming the mainsail in an effort to work out of the bay when the boat struck one of Emerson's rocks. A hole was stove in her bottom and she at once filled and was hard and fast.

All aboard were driven to the top of the cabin, where they clung to the mast and secured white sea after sea crashed over them, chilling them to the bone.

They were rescued by Capt. Stevens and crew of the Plum Island life saving station. The boat, valued at $1,000, pounded to pieces on the rocks.

FORTIFY PANAMA CANAL

Congress Will Be Requested to Appropriation $15,000,000

Washington, Sept. 7.—Congress will be asked by the president for an appropriation for the building of defenses for the Panama canal. This was decided at Beverly last week, following a conference between the president and Major-General Leonard Wood, chief of the staff of the army.

President Taft when he submits his recommendations to congress for appropriations will ask authority to erect defenses to cost $15,000,000. A part of the appropriation will be asked for for immediate use.

Neither the president nor Gen. Wood believes that any government will object to the erection of fortifications at both ends of the canal and the maintenance of a military force in Panama for guard duty purposes.

Any country that has any idea that the United States will make the waterway a neutral body of water will receive something of a jar, for from all indications brought out while the president and Gen. Wood were conferring on the subject a strong force of soldiers will be stationed in the zone.

DREARY DAYS

Dreary days on Lizard creek
 Now the summer's come an' gone;
 Wind a-whistlin' down the "reach"
 Makes a feller feel forlorn.
 Leaves his tumbled from the trees;
 Reeds he's dived an' fallen down;
 Boats turned downward on the bank;
 Modder grasses dead an' brown.

Wouldn't mind the grass nor leaves
 Nor the tangled, dyin' moss,
 Medder cots an' lily pads,
 But it's—well, the lonesomeness!
 All the logs are bleak an' bare;
 Ain't no turtles out in sight;
 Ain't no social lillfrogs now
 Talkin' 'cross the creek at night.

Seems like ev'rythin' is gone,
 Singin' birds an' honeybees,
 An' a marmar uv complaint
 Sounds amongst the waving trees.
 Dreary days when winter drives
 All the frogs an' turtles in,
 An' a feller just feels blue
 'Till they come aroun' ag'in.

Robert P. Bass of Peterboro, the progressive candidate for governor, was nominated on Tuesday and by such an overwhelming majority that it astonished even his own workers. At two o'clock this morning, with all of the clerks and about one hundred news-mongers, Bass had a majority of 4,700, and still gaining; in fact, there is every indication that he will be nominated by at least 5,000 majority.

In the congressional fight, Salloway defeated Sherman E. Burroughs, the former carrying Manchester and some of the surrounding towns. Burroughs, however, carried this city by about 50 majority.

In all of the towns in Rockingham county the vote on the head of the ticket was small, but for the county solicitors there was a big vote, and E. L. Gupill carried this city, and with all but two towns to be heard from he is sure of the nomination.

In the seven-handed commissioners' fight, Beane, Hodgdon and Carlisle had the greatest vote, and returns from the various towns would indicate their election, which would make two commissioners from this city. In various parts of the state the vote was light, but in the cities there were so many contests that the vote was big.

CHANDLER SAYS WRONGS REBUKED

Concord, Sept. 7.—William E. Chandler last night gave out the following comment upon the primary election results in New Hampshire.

"To Republican Progressives everywhere: 'The political wrongs done in New Hampshire by the Republican corporation oligarchy prior to 1906 have been rebuked by the Republican reformers of 1910, and the progressive movement begun in the nation in 1906 by Theodore Roosevelt and in New Hampshire under the leadership of Winston Churchill, has been approved by the New Hampshire Republican voters through the indispensable agency of a model direct primary system.'

"Political freedom being achieved, New Hampshire Republicans, under the lead of Taft and Roosevelt, and Robert P. Bass and Bertram Ellis, will not fail to assist the party to continuous triumphs. I congratulate Republican insurgents everywhere, especially Senators LaFollette, Dooliver, Cummins, Bristow, Clapp and Beveridge. They have told the truth without fear and fought for the right, and have saved the Republican party from death by reason of corporation oligarchy rule.

"This is the lesson of New Hampshire, scientifically and descriptively stated.

"WILLIAM E. CHANDLER."

BURROUGHS CONGRATULATES SULLOWAY

Please accept my heartfelt congratulations.

Respectfully yours,

WON'T ATTEND CONVENTION

Concord, Sept. 7.—A surprise feature of the election was seen here, where United States Senator Jacob H. Gallinger and former Senator William E. Chandler, one a supporter of Ellis, the other of Bass, were candidates for election as delegates to the state convention, which will formulate the 1910 platform of the Republican party in New Hampshire; and both were defeated.

STATEMENT BY SULLOWAY

Manchester, Sept. 7.—Congressman Cyrus A. Sulloway last Tuesday night issued the following statement:

"I am delighted with the result. With a heart filled with gratitude, I extend to the thousands of friends who so loyally supported me my sincere thanks. I am especially pleased with the result in Manchester, where I have nearly a 1,000 majority, and where I carried 8 out of the 10 wards. I endeavored to conduct a clean, dignified and perfectly fair campaign, and the result will leave behind no feelings of bitterness, as far as I am concerned. The people have rendered their verdict and now let us all pull together for a good old fashioned Republican victory.

"C. A. SULLOWAY."

ROOSEVELT STILL TALKING
Addresses a Convention and Gets a Great Reception.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 7.—Theodore Roosevelt's speech on conservation, delivered today at the national conservation congress, was received with the warmest applause. It was several minutes after he arose to speak before he could make himself heard, so persistently did the throng cheer him.

In his speech Col. Roosevelt outlined his ideas about conservation, saying that the reckless and uncontrolled waste of the past must be stopped. He declared himself in favor of right steps to preserve the country's natural resources for the benefit of the whole people, and to check the power of monopolistic corporations.

"Much that I have to say on the subject of conservation will be but a repetition of what was so admirably said from the platform yesterday," said the colonel. This compliment to the President was received with a cheer.

Minnesota, he said, had been one of the first to take hold of the conservation policy in practical fashion.

"And," he added, "she has done great work and has been an admirable example to the rest of us, doing work representing a policy well set forth in your governor's address, delivered yesterday. I am glad that this congress is held in such a state

THEATRICAL TOPICS

Ryan is coming
The ever popular Daniel Ryan and his theatrical troupe will be at Music Hall Thursday matinee and evening. In his powerful new drama, "The Black Fox."

This star actor is well known throughout the New York and New England circuit, playing the big cities and a few of the best show towns among the smaller cities. Portsmouth theatregoers have a rare opportunity to see him and his company in this strong new play at popular prices.

B. F. Keith's Theatre, Boston
One of the strongest bills announced for B. F. Keith's theatre in a long time is that of next week. Among the big features will be Elsie Fay, the comic opera star; "The Models of the Jardin de Paris," with Carl Henry; Lester Lomergan and Amy Richard; Herzog's big troupe of trained horses; and many other features of equal importance.

It is some time since Elsie Fay has been seen in Boston, and she now appears with an entirely new repertoire of songs, but there is no doubt no matter what she sings, she will be unable to get away without singing "The Belle of the Avenue A." "The Models of the Jardin de Paris" is one of the biggest musical comedy features in vaudeville and the comedy element is particularly strong. Carl Henry, the principal comedian, is one of the funniest men now on the stage, and his phrase, "Now I'll

PICHETTE DEFEATED MITCHELL

In One Hundred Yard Dash for Silver Cup at Central Park

The Dover Democrat publishes the following:

The much talked of 100 yard dash between Napoleon Pichette of Dover and George G. Mitchell of Portsmouth took place at Central Park Saturday afternoon at the close of the baseball game and was won by the local man. The race was run in a down-pour of rain. Mitchell was the first man to show up at the starting post and he was kept hustling to keep warm until Pichette showed up. William Quinlan acted as starter and Carleton A. Newton and Edward Perrin were the judges at the tape.

After some delay the men came to the scratch for the work. Both men were off ahead of the report of the pistol but the start was a fairly good one. Pichette took the lead which he held all of the way to the tape. When about half over the course Mitchell made a sprint which carried him nearer to Pichette, but the latter then also sprinted and won by about three yards. The time was slow, the track being a poor one for a one hundred yard dash. Mitchell, although defeated, ran in better form than his opponent, who ran with his head thrown back and his chest extended forward. The winner was presented with the silver cup which was donated by Manager Sullivan and Stanley of the Somersworth and Dover baseball teams. A year ago at the field day of the Fourth Company, C. A. C. at Granite State Park Mitchell defeated Pichette and now each of the men have won and lost to each other. A race between these men over a good path on a fair day would be worth witnessing.

It pays to get the Herald every night.

TO HAVE A SAILOR PILOT
WALTER WELLMAN TO START ON OCEAN VOYAGE AS SOON AS POSSIBLE.

New York, Sept. 7.—Following an interchange of cablegrams between J. Bruce Ismay, president of the International Mercantile Marine company, who is in Liverpool, and Murray Simons, a junior officer of the steamship Oceanic, lying off West 22d street, it was announced yesterday that Simons would be the navigator of the Walter Wellman airship on its projected voyage via air line across the Atlantic.

Simons, who is young and unmarried, has followed the sea for 17 years. During most of this period he has been in touch with the Atlantic wind situation in all seasons of the year, and he heartily agrees with Mr. Wellman that an airship voyage to Scotland, England or France is wholly practicable.

He has counted on being navigator of the airship for several months and has spent the present summer studying carefully all that a navigator should know of the problems of getting safely across in the air lanes. Saturday he went to see Mr. Wellman at Atlantic City, and on his return yesterday cabled Liverpool asking for a leave of absence, to begin on this side and terminate upon his reporting after his aerial journey to England.

Mrs. Ismay replied that the company wished him well and wouldn't interpose any objections.

Mr. Simons said that all the head winds which a dirigible would be likely to encounter blow in March and though the later spring months. In the fall, he said, the winds are from the west and blow steadily, or veer to the northwest and southwest, which would have little effect on the journey's success.

"I have heard," he said, "that some people fear the winds on account of their cyclone character, and it is true that there is more or less of a whirlwind motion to some of the Atlantic's air currents. But I never heard of a northwest wind doubling back into the southwest, although I have heard of a southwest swinging northwestward."

"The fact is that the winds blow so softly in the fall, for the most part, that their reverse action on the swing about is dissipated. It would be a rare occurrence indeed for an airship to encounter a back drift, as it were, and be blown out of its course."

"A veering of the tall wind to the southwest would make it best for Mr. Wellman to head for the coast of Scotland, while a straight ahead wind would bring him out in Ireland without much of a fight, and a northwest wind would terminate his trip in France."

"He carries plenty of gasoline to fight anything less than a gale, if he has good luck with his motor, and his stabilizer, to operate on the waves will keep his flight at a uniform height."

The Wellman craft is almost ready for its trial flight out from Atlantic City. It is hoped to have it completed by the end of this week, and if the going is good aloft it will start out on the first favorable day for the Irish coast.

BASS IS GRATIFIED

Peterboro, Sept. 7.—Robert P. Bass, the candidate for the gubernatorial nomination of the Republicans, made the following statement just before midnight last night:

"The returns as far as received are certainly most gratifying. It looks as though I should be nominated by a good margin, and if such is the case I shall take it, not as any tribute to myself, but as a clear indication that the Republicans of New Hampshire have expressed themselves as emphatically in favor of those principles and special issues on which I made my campaign."

"I wish to pay a tribute to those men who have so unselfishly devoted their time and energy to the cause for which we have all been working. Their able, efficient and untiring efforts are responsible for the fine vote which I have received in the towns and cities thus far heard from."

"I am particularly pleased that this campaign has been carried on in such a friendly spirit, free from personalities between Col. Ellis and myself."

THE VALET'S VINDICATION

And Other Moving Pictures to Be Seen at Music Hall

The action begins in the apartment of Howard Breckman, a young society bachelor. He leaves his handsome valet de chambre, and enjoin upon the said Kirby the strictest good behavior during his month's absence. The scene ends by showing how Kirby intends to observe this injunction. He goes to the telephone and apparently sends an invitation to some of his pals. Then the scene shifts to a handsome suite at the Waldorf, where Mr. and Mrs. Bradley and their pretty daughter are stopping and from which place they are scouring the city in search of a handsome furnished apartment. The pretty daughter appears while her tired-out father and mother are rehearsing their futile attempts to find anything that would do. She, too, is tired, but has an inspiration and, sitting at the table, writes an advertise for such an apartment as they want. And then we travel to the morning after Kirby's party and find him asleep at the table littered with cigars, poker chips, cards, etc., and considerably the worse for wear. When the boy brings the paper Kirby discovers that he is without money, the game of the night before having taken all his wages. In the midst of his quandary as to what to do his eye lights upon the advertisement of the Bradley's and he resolves to answer it and rent them his master's apartment. The plan succeeds. They are charmed with the place and take it, though somewhat suspicious of the young man who rented it to them. Then Kirby disappears with the advanced rental in his pocket, and goes out to "see the town." But Breckman unexpectedly returns in the middle of the night soon after the Bradleys are settled and is confronted by "Papa" Bradley and other members of the family en dishabille. You will want to go to Music Hall tonight and see the rest of this beautiful Edison moving picture film, "The Valet's Vindication."

Other new moving pictures at Music Hall are: "The Legend of Scarface," Kalem. "Over the Garden Wall," Vitagraph.

FIRE IN A CEMETERY

Dover, Sept. 7.—Fire from some unknown cause Monday night destroyed the tool house at the Pine Hill cemetery, together with the greater part of its contents, including one horse, cemetery tools and several tons of hay. There were two horses in the house, but one was taken, but had been so badly burned about the head that it had to be shot. The building was one and one-half stories high at one end and two and one-half at the other. The fire department laid 3000 feet of hose from a Court street hydrant, but the stream was ineffectual. The loss is estimated to be $3,000, and there is an insurance of $1,300 on the building.

The New Piano Question

This is a subject that sooner or later arises in almost every household. When it makes its appearance there is apt to be a discussion; also a whole lot of bombastic talk by salesman who know more about the price of their goods than they do about their quality. Whenever this subject comes up in your family, remember that it is far wiser to buy a known and really good piano at a fair price, than to buy an unknown make at any price. The good reliable and well known pianos are to be found at my store. Forty five years of honorable dealing is your guarantee of safety if you trade here.

SOLDIERS MIX IT UP

Dover Heroes Cause a Small Riot at Armory

The Dover company of the state militia connected with the Coast Artillery arrived here this morning to go in camp at Fort Constitution. Three of the heroes however, went in camp at the police headquarters, and will not take part in the war maneuvers until that fighting brand of Dover boose loses its effect.

Before leaving Dover they loaded up, ready for the enemy along the coast, but it appears that the rebels were met near the armory on State street, where the Cocheco boys started a small riot because they could not have Portsmouth declared marshal law. Major Hoyt, commanding the battalion took a hand and offered the olive branch to the boose fighters. They thought the major was joking, but when he ordered them placed under arrest their sporting blood got a chill.

A detail from the Dover company marched the trio to the police station where they had one grand chorus of "Tenting Tonight!" and then bundled up on the soft side of a pine board to try and forget it.

DESTROYED BARN

Owner Knocked Down by Lightning But Not Harmed Seriously

Biddeford, Me., Sept. 7.—Lightning last night struck the barn of William J. Thompson on the Goodwin Mills road and it was burned flat with 20 tons of hay, a large amount of grain and a big stock of farming tools. The loss is estimated at $1500, partially covered by insurance.

Mr. Thompson, who is 85 years old, his son-in-law, Charles Nutter, and Mr. Nutter's son, Roy were milking in the barn when the lightning struck. The bolt came down through the building and struck the cow which Mr. Nelson was milking throwing her down and also knocking Mr. Nelson off his feet. Mr. Nelson was somewhat shocked, but not seriously injured.

The neighbors quickly gathered and formed a bucket brigade and it was by their efficient work that the house, which is located near the barn, was saved. Three cows, a horse and pig were saved before the barn was destroyed.

RESCUED WOODEN INDIAN

New York, Sept. 7.—A man seemed weekly struggling with the rapid tide of Fifty-eighth street, East River, in mid-stream. Volunteer Life Savers Frank Vaneeck and Fred Seigler saw him and launched their boat. Hurriedly they rowed out, and when they ever took the "swimmer" Seigler jumped overboard in the dim light and grasped the man by the neck. Then he said things that can't be repeated. He had rescued a cigar store Indian.
